

FUTURE SITE OF THE BYRON SPRINGBANK VETERANS MONUMENT

Photo Description: Plan View of the New Monument Location.

About This Project:

The Byron-Springbank Legion Branch 533 (Monument Consortium) has proposed the donation of the Byron Monument to the City of London for Springbank Park.

This project will not displace any of the parks existing uses or existing amenities.

Project Timeline:

Construction of this project is tentatively planned to start in 2026.

Concept Refinement & Detailed Design
2025 - 2026

Issue for Tender
2026

Construction
2026

To learn more:

To donate:

Photo Description: Proposed Monument and Pedestrian Plaza.

About The Monument:

The Byron Springbank Veterans Monument will stand as a symbol of the human side of conflict.

It will commemorate those who made the ultimate sacrifice, and also honour those who came home, started families and businesses, and created the building blocks upon which Canada was built.

The monument will feature Canadian military from past conflicts, such as the Boer War, World War I, World War II, Korea, and Afghanistan, in addition to a representation of our peacekeepers around the world.

The figures will be outlined in stainless steel, so that as people walk around the monument, it will provide an illusion of motion.

City Contact Information
Linda McDougall, Landscape Architect
City of London, Email: lmcdougall@london.ca
Phone 519-661-2489 Ext. 6494

